Welcome!

Now, have Walford and Weatherfield had a personality swap? In Corrie we have big, hard-hitting issues plots, murderous schemers and cliff-hanging drama – while EastEnders has changed its fun setting to maximum, as we have Kat and co involved in some high jinks over a fake death. There's been a lot of debate about whether

"I'm enjoying the change in Corrie"

Corrie has become too dark, or if EastEnders has lost its edge – but I'm quite enjoying the change, and we all know that it isn't going to last forever.

Take this week as an example: in Corrie, we have some hilarious Mary action, and Chesney dressed as a haddock – while EastEnders sees a shock death (a real one this time), and the start of some twisted drama as Hunter looks set to follow in his dad's footsteps.

You don't know what the soaps will bring you next, and I love that. Although I'm okay for people dressed up as haddock for the time being, thank you...

What does desperate Syd have in store for Seb?

EMMERDALE | ITV WEDNESDAY

Robert & KIDNAP

ALL HELL BREAKS LOOSE AS BABY SEB IS THREATENED...

Robert's world is turned upside down this week, after an escaped prisoner snatches baby Seb – before turning on Aaron and taking the stunned fella hostage!

Robert and Aaron's nightmare unfolds as they celebrate getting one over on Joe, having joined forces with Jimmy to hit the Home Farm supremo where it hurts (see p31). But Aaron's joy turns to pure horror when he chances upon the dangerous escapee cradling Seb in his home...

"You can imagine all the terrible thoughts that race through Aaron's mind as this extremely volatile situation develops before his eyes," shares our Dales informant. "For all he knows, this guy is armed and intends to hurt Seb. One wrong move and that could be it for both of them."

What Aaron quickly comes to realise, though, is that the criminal who's broken into his house isn't a stranger, but rather someone with whom he's already had dealings.

Emmerdale viewers should cast their minds back to the end of last year, when Aaron and Cain helped Adam Barton escape from the prison van transporting him to court. Travelling with him in the vehicle was another inmate, Syd, whom Cain and Aaron freed from the truck to make it look as if he was the jailbird they were helping to abscond – and that Adam's getaway was merely an opportunistic move made on the back of Syd's bid for freedom.

However, that decision comes back to haunt them as angry Syd reappears and demands £100,000 – or else!

"Syd has been on the run for all these months and is clearly very desperate," explains our source. "When we first met him, his jovial manner made him seem relatively harmless as convicts go. But the fact that he is willing to threaten a young baby just goes to show that Syd shouldn't be underestimated..."

Syd puts the frighteners on Robert and Aaron – will they give him cash?

INSIDE SCOOP

Unfortunately, that's the mistake Aaron ends up making after he relays Syd's demands to Robert. Together they plan to meet Syd without any intention of handing over the money, and Robert is left uneasy when Aaron and Cain suggest violence is the only language a lowlife like Syd will understand to convince him to back off.

With that, the trio meet him at the scrapyard, and between the three of them give Syd a good pasting – before locking him inside one of the metal cages. However, it's a move that comes back to haunt them in spectacular fashion when Robert receives a live video call from Aaron, who is gagged and bound to a chair!

"In the space of a few days, Robert faces losing his son and his true love," despairs our mole. "It's taken so long for them to get to a point where they are blissfully happy again, and now there is every chance it will be ripped away. Poor Robert is beside himself."

As Robert realises the situation has spiralled disastrously out of control, he faces a race against time to settle up with Syd and ensure Aaron's safe return home. Can he come up with a foolproof plan to rescue his fella from a terrible fate – or are Robert and Aaron set to be torn apart for good this time?

LACHLAN'S AGONY AS REBECCA REMEMBERS?

While Robert deals with the very real prospect of losing his partner, confused Rebecca is on the verge of regaining her memory – and finally realising that her nephew, Lachlan, is responsible for the deaths of her family!

Poor Rebecca hasn't been able to recall the moment that saw Lachlan grab the wheel of the car the Whites were travelling in, crashing the vehicle and killing his grandad Lawrence and mother Chrissie. Her memory lapses have also seen her unintentionally put herself and son Seb in some very precarious situations – so this week Rebecca is determined to do something about it, and hopes a hypnotherapist could be the answer to her problems.

However, when Lachlan gets wind of Rebecca's plan, he insists on going with her – because he fears that the treatment will help her to unlock incriminating reminders of his deadly treachery!

As his aunt heads in to her appointment and Lachlan waits outside anxiously, the last remaining members of the White clan seem destined for an epic clash. Is Rebecca set to find closure – and is it the end of the line for Lachlan?

Louise is smitten – but is Hunter just as keen on her?

EASTENDERS | BBC1 FRIDAY

What does Hunter have in store for the Mitchells?

PHIL AND LOUISE SHOULD WATCH THEIR BACKS...

Bad boy Hunter puts pressure on Louise to sleep with him this week – but could she live to regret getting involved with the troubled teen?

Square newcomer Charlie Winter, who plays Hunter, warns us that his unruly alter ego is on a mission – and doesn't care who will be hurt as long as he get what he wants...

"He's slightly psychotic!" chuckles the star. "Hunter has deep-rooted issues with his mum Mel, because since he arrived in the Square he's found out all these things about his dad Steve that he didn't know. People around him are making these little comments, and it's pushing him to find out more and more. However, the way he goes about that is vicious!"

Viewers will know that Steve was left to die by Phil Mitchell following a terrifying car crash (see box) – but Hunter has remained oblivious so far. In fact, it's been all wine and roses between the Mitchells and the Owens since Phil came to Hunter's rescue with some good advice. Will all that love extend to Hunter making a play for Phil's daughter?

At the start of the week, Sharon and Louise take the initiative and invite Hunter over for a family dinner – but the atmosphere is ruined when worried Mel barges in and demands that her son leave immediately. And after drunk Sharon bites back, it would seem that this meal is going to leave a sour taste in everyone's mouths.

"Their mothers may have been best mates, but Hunter and Louise's fathers hated each other," says our insider.

“People around Hunter are making comments about Steve Owen”

Mel isn't at all impressed by Hunter bonding with Phil

"What would Hunter do if he discovered Steve and Phil's history tomorrow? Mel's boy has too much of his dad in him. Take note, Phil!"

Hunter later seizes the opportunity to join Phil at the Arches – and as the hard man shows Hunter the ropes, the lad appears genuinely interested. But Mel is furious when she finds her son hanging out with Phil again, and Hunter has to work hard to convince her all is okay between them. While it takes a lot of persuading, his mum is eventually reassured – though Hunter's next move will shock both her and Phil!

They've only just become romantically involved, but Hunter is keen to bed Louise. Despite being besotted, Louise feels they're rushing things – yet after chatting with best mate Bex, she comes to the decision to go for it.

The question is: is Hunter's interest in her genuine? Given what star Charlie has told us, we're worried Louise could be headed for a fall – or something far worse if Hunter's psychotic tendencies take over...

Kate White

The history behind their rivalry...

FAMILY AFFAIR

Steve was never fond of the Mitchell clan, starting a feud with Phil's brother Grant. But it wasn't until Phil slept with Steve's fiancée Mel – and Steve later found out about it – that things turned really nasty.

TAKING AIM

Steve was a suspect in the case of 'Who Shot Phil?' as he had motive and access to a gun. When Mel was later kidnapped, Phil saved her – before she set light to E20 after being told of Steve's antics.

SQUARING UP

Phil and Steve's rift deepened when he told the Mitchell hard man that he and Sharon had a fling while they were together. Phil attacked Steve, who had him done for assault – and set about seducing Phil's sister Sam in revenge.

FIERY TEMPER

Steve and Phil were involved in a car chase after Phil found out Steve was taking Lisa and Louise to the US. When the pursuit ended in a crash, Phil saved Louise – but left Steve to die in the flames.

Queens of the night!

SHARON AND MEL SPARKLE AS E20 REOPENS...

Mel and Sharon certainly aren't a little green when it comes to running a club

God rest their souls, but the Mitchell sisters are old news when it comes to the East End club scene – as blonde beauties Sharon and Mel join forces this week to relaunch Walford's E20!

The glam pair are all smiles as they welcome the local residents to enjoy an evening out down the disco, with a few surprises to entice them on to the dance floor. But as ever with the Square's ill-fated night spot, there are a few hiccups along the way...

never going to run smoothly," scoffs our EastEnders insider. "We're talking about the same building that Mel once set alight in a fit of rage, and where Dirty Den Watts' made a shock return from the grave. Frankly, it's a wonder Mel and Sharon are so breezy about reviving a nightclub that has caused them both so much

"If you consider the history of this dive, things were pain in the past. But someone had to put the spice back into the Square – and these two ladies are the ones to do it!"

While Phil owns the club, Sharon decided it was time to put it back on the map again, and hired Mel as her manager. They've had their differences, but their shared flair for glitz and glamour is something they agree on, as preparations for a swanky launch bash get under way. However, a major spanner is thrown in the works after thieves break into the club, helping themselves to booze and Mel's handbag while they're at it!

With that, the ladies and their staff are forced to work twice as hard – and it's all hands on deck to ensure E20 is ready to open its doors in time for the big reveal. Luckily Sharon and Mel pull it off, and their friends and neighbours arrive to be greeted by some very handsome waiters!

As the dynamic duo survey the results of their hard work, is E20 back to its best? Or is it only a matter of time before the venue becomes a magnet for deadly drama again?

Laura-Jayne Tyler

“Given the history of E20, things were never going to run smoothly”

CLUBBED TO DEATH!

Let's hope history doesn't repeat itself...

Mel and Sharon should count themselves lucky they only have thieves to deal with – because the last time E20 opened in Walford, it was murder!

Valentine's Day 1999 saw bloody mayhem when club owner Steve Owen was attacked by his crazy ex Saskia Duncan. He fought off the raging minx and dealt her a fatal blow – before burying her body deep in Epping Forest! Meanwhile, club DJ Matthew Rose was rewarded for his help by being framed by ruthless Steve for the killing...

Mel has a big task on her hands getting the club ready for its reopening

CORONATION STREET | ITV WEDNESDAY

Craig's meltdown!

HE PANICS WHEN THE POLICE COME KNOCKING AT HIS DOOR...

Craig's OCD threatens to overwhelm him this week, as he barricades himself in his flat and refuses to leave!

The meltdown comes after Craig breaks the news to Bethany that disgraced officer Neil Clifton is appealing his conviction for raping her. Telling Bethany what has happened breaks police rules, and leaves Craig in hot water with his bosses – pushing the already-troubled young copper right to the edge...

"Craig is just trying to look out for Bethany," insists star Colson Smith, defending his alter ego's actions. "He's broken the rules for her before, so why not do it again? I think it's a knee-jerk reaction. When he hears that Neil wants to get his conviction overturned, it's the worst news possible in his current mindset, so he goes straight to the Platts' to tell Bethany. It's spur-of-the-moment – he doesn't think of the consequences."

After DC Leigh discovers that Craig has divulged the sensitive information, she suggests that he take a break from his special constable work. Later, as Craig is performing his OCD rituals at home, the police arrive to search the flat, as it was the last known address of murdered Andy Carver. But the unexpected intrusion sends poor Craig into a frenzy, so he bolts the door and refuses to allow anyone in!

"He panics, because the only thing he wants is to be a police officer, and he realises he could lose it all," explains Colson. "Also, he doesn't want to be distracted while he's doing his rituals. So when there's banging on the door and the buzzer going off, and people shouting outside, Craig is close to a breakdown!"

Fortunately, while all the commotion is going on, Bethany manages to get into the flat via the balcony fire door. She's horrified to discover a very distressed and tearful Craig – just as the police burst in.

"Craig keeps doing his rituals in front of Bethany, but he can see that he's scaring

“With all the banging and shouting, Craig is close to a breakdown”

Bethany takes Craig home with her to try to calm down her friend sighs Colson. "He starts worrying that Leigh will have told everyone, and that they're all laughing at him. He can't see that Bethany was trying to help him, as everything is clouded by his OCD."

His mother Beth tries to calm Craig down, reassuring him that Bethany meant no harm and was just looking out for his well-being. But with his career in the police force hanging in the balance and his reputation potentially in tatters, is Craig in the right frame of mind to listen to anyone?

Tom Spilsbury

Bethany is shocked after walking in on Craig performing his rituals her," shares Colson. "Once he's finished his rituals, he calms down and Bethany takes him home with her. Craig is so confused by what's going on in his head, and when he realises everyone thinks there's something wrong with him, he feels worse than ever. After he sees a doctor and gets an OCD diagnosis, it's almost a relief."

Bethany then takes it upon herself to speak to DC

Leigh to try to explain Craig's actions, and begs his superior to be lenient with him for telling her about Neil's appeal.

"Craig wants to make it as a police officer by himself, so after he finds out that Bethany has gone behind his back, he's instantly anxious and upset,"

Something's cooking at the curry house...

Corrie boss Kate Oates recently hinted that there could be even more anxiety ahead for troubled Craig, after a newcomer arrives on the cobbles...

"We have someone called Kayla," explained the series producer, while chatting about the newly extended Victoria Street set. "She's working at [new restaurant] Speed Daal – and she's going to create problems for Bethany and Craig."

Whatever can it mean? Craig has long held a torch for Bethany, and all of his recent actions have been motivated by the fact that she is clearly the most important woman in his life. But could newcomer Kayla – who's set to be played by actress Mollie Winnard – supplant Bethany in the young special constable's affections?

WALFORD EXODUS!

It's all change on Albert Square...

EASTENDERS

There's a huge cast shake-up under way at EastEnders – with the news that three big names are due to leave the soap this spring.

In what is perhaps a controversial exit, actress Jenna Russell is waving goodbye to Michelle Fowler, after she was brought in to play the iconic role that was originally made famous by Susan Tully.

The decision to recast Michelle in 2016 received a mixed reaction from fans, with stories such as her illicit affair with 17-year-old student Preston Cooper – and bother with stalker Tom Bailey – among the most memorable. Michelle has had very little screen time of late, but Walford bosses and Jenna insist it was a mutual decision to write her out.

“Just for clarity, I wasn’t ‘axed’ – just fancied doing something else,” the star posted on social media, before going on to confirm that “nothing else” has brought about her exit, as she signed off with the hashtag #actorslife.

Meanwhile, Square chiefs have announced that Richard Blackwood will be bidding farewell, after three years of playing Kim’s husband Vincent.

“I have loved every minute of my time at EastEnders and, although I will be sad to say goodbye, it feels like the right time to leave,” says the actor. “I have been truly blessed with some great storylines since the moment I joined, but when I was presented with my last story, I knew it was time for Vincent to depart Walford.”

The former gangster turned police informant made his East End debut during the show’s ‘Live Week’ to mark its 30th birthday in 2015. His most recent storylines resulted in trouble with wife Kim and him losing his bar The Albert to evil Aidan Maguire – so with his business gone and marriage on the rocks, will Vincent decide there is simply nothing left for him in Walford? Or is a much more dramatic departure on the cards?

Finally, pop star Lee Ryan is signing off as bar manager Harry ‘Woody’ Woodward. Whitney’s ex-fiancé will be back on screen next week – sparking an awkward reunion for the pair – but is destined to depart again once Lee reaches the end of his contract. Sorry to see you all go, guys!

Things have been fraught between Vincent and Kim for months

Preston and Michelle's affair raised eyebrows

EASTENDERS

ALFIE BACK FOR KAT?

As doors close in Walford, another reopens...

It sounds as though Kat and Alfie will be forced to confront their marriage troubles face to face, with the news that Shane Richie is returning to EastEnders!

Reports suggest the star – who has made no secret of his desire to head home to Walford – will return to the set within weeks to begin filming again...

"My wife wants me to get back to work," confessed Shane in a recent interview. "She's desperate for me to do EastEnders, so I will. I've had two years off and I think that was enough for me. I'm ready to go back if they'll have me. It's the best gig on TV."

When Kat landed back in Albert Square, she admitted to Stacey that she and Alfie were on a break in the wake of the drama they've been through together over the past three years. He's still in Spain with their children, having found some work in another bar – but judging by Kat's raucous return to the East End, she doesn't appear keen on a reunion with her estranged hubby any time soon. Will her reluctance to confront their many problems force Alfie's hand and bring him home to Albert Square?

EastEnders bosses are staying tight-lipped on whether the gossip is true, but the rumour is that we'll be seeing Alfie for a brief period during the spring. Watch this space!

STOP PRESS!

Michelle-shock!

Michelle could be the next Street serial killer, if star Kym Marsh has her way! "I'd actually like more psychopath stuff," she confesses.

Not guilty!

Meanwhile, both Corrie and Emmerdale are in the clear after complaints were made against Phelan's killer antics and the recent acid attack on Ross Barton. Broadcast regulator Ofcom ruled that neither story breached the rules that govern TV drama.

Back with a bang

Max Branning fans rejoice! The Square bad boy will be back on our screens soon with another huge story, according to star Jake Wood. "I hope Max finds some happiness and stability this year – but knowing him, it's unlikely!" chuckles the actor.

COBBLES RETURNS!

Two famous faces are heading back to the Street...

CORONATION STREET

Supposed psychic Rosemary is currently spooking Gail and Audrey with tales of their dead ex-husbands, but there is one former flame who romanced both mother and daughter and is very much alive – and he's on his way back to Weatherfield to cause the pair more drama!

It's reported that con man Lewis Archer – played by Nigel Havers – will reappear on the cobbles, after two previous stints saw him dupe both Audrey and Gail.

"I do owe Gail 40 grand and, as an honourable man, I'd like to pay that back!" joked Nigel, in an interview for Piers Morgan's Life Stories. "It was wonderful doing the show."

However, Lewis isn't the only blast from the past that Audrey will have to contend with. Salon owner Claudia Colby was the old pal who introduced her to Lewis in the first place – and with star Rula Lenska due to reprise her role in a separate story, it will be interesting to see why she's returned to the Street.

So, are Gail and Audrey set to have their hearts broken and purses lightened by Lewis again? Or has life on the run led to the fraudster changing his ways?

Lewis is both a charmer and a scoundrel

Has Brenda finally cracked?

AS BOB AND LAUREL'S PASSION ERUPTS, BRENDA IS GUNNING FOR THEM...

Betrayed Brenda is heartbroken this week, as her plan for a trip away for her and Bob is ruined.

Despite everything she knows has gone on, Brenda is determined not to give up on her relationship with Bob, and she's hoping that a family trip away from the village will help the pair reconnect. But when Bob doesn't make it to the excursion, Brenda is left stranded in Whitby with his kids Heath and Cathy. Meanwhile in the village, Bob and Laurel fall into bed together – and it's the last straw for Brenda...

"Brenda isn't cruel, but she has a temper, and she can lose it," admits Lesley Dunlop, who plays the cheated wife-to-be. "She's planned this family trip to Whitby with the children – who aren't even Brenda's, might I add! It's just something that she wants all of them to do together. But it ends in bitter disappointment."

Brenda's heartbreak comes as Bob and Laurel finally realise the true depth of their feelings for each other. It's a random moment in the Woolpack which sparks the change of pace for the duo, after Laurel gets chatted up by a handsome man at the bar. Seething with jealousy, Bob is back at the café venting when he ends up whacking a water pipe out of frustration, sending water shooting everywhere!

He's drenched and fuming by the time that Laurel turns up to help with the mess – but outrage soon turns into passion, and the sodden couple fall back into one another's arms. Meanwhile, poor Brenda is still stranded by the seaside in Whitby, oblivious to the fact that her errant partner is on the verge of spending yet another surreptitious night at Mulberry Cottage with Laurel.

"I'm hoping that Brenda won't end up holding a gun to Laurel's head!"

Brenda has disguised the fact that she knows about Laurel's betrayal

IN LOVING MEMORY

The village remembers Ashley as his headstone is erected...

While Laurel is sneaking about with Bob, Harriet tells her that Ashley's headstone is about to be delivered to the village.

It's an emotional moment for Laurel who, despite her burgeoning relationship with Bob, still misses her dearly departed husband. Now more than ever she's likely to be craving the support of someone as close to her as Bob currently is – but when the village gathers to once again remember its beloved vicar as his headstone is installed, it's unclear if he'll be able to reach out to her.

With Brenda watching Laurel's every move, will she be forced to endure her sorrow alone?

However, when Laurel's son Arthur finds Bob's jacket at home and returns it to Brenda the following day, it doesn't take long for the penny drop – and for Brenda to begin plotting for revenge.

"She's distraught to realise what's been going on, but she can't let on she knows," sighs Lesley. "I don't think she's really that aware of what she's doing – she's just treading water. She finds Laurel's wallet on a table, but she's not actually planning anything at that point. While she picks it up, she's struggling with what to do with it – and then she has a bottle of wine..."

The following day, Laurel tells Bob that her bank card has been stolen, with no idea that Brenda is the thief. So is Brenda about to make Laurel pay – quite literally?

"Brenda is very desperate," Lesley tells us. "She loved

Laurel, and her husband Ashley, so it's hard for her to hate Laurel. But seeing Bob and her friend like this is also very difficult for Brenda – although I don't think she's intending to be malicious.

"Maybe she will just end up locking Laurel in a barn or something?" continues the actress. "I'm hoping that she won't be holding a gun to Laurel's head or anything!"

CAN KAT CLEAN UP THE SLATERS' REPUTATION?

EASTENDERS | BBC1 TUESDAY

Cash-strapped Kat comes up with a plan to make money this week – by launching the Slater cleaning company.

Thanks to Mo's debts and the scam over her fake death, the family owe many creditors and need to start paying up. While Big Mo has explored all the dodgy avenues she can to get her hands on some readies, Kat decides that if they're going to live in Walford, they need to play it straight. So she comes up with the bright idea of starting a cleaning company...

"Kat isn't afraid of hard work, and it's something they can all do together," reasons our

Square mole. "Given that she was a millionaire just a short time ago, it must be a bump down to earth for Kat – but she won't give up. She knows that her family need her, especially Stacey. The only way to start fixing this mess is to get their hands dirty."

The problem is, their angry neighbours in Walford are not ready to forgive and forget what the Slaters did. They are appalled by Mo's plot to raise money by faking Kat's death and then trying to flog the donated coffin. It's tawdry stuff, so when Kat starts handing out flyers and trying to get people to help them with the cleaning company, no one is interested – and she begins to realise that glossing over what happened just isn't going to work.

Only Karen Taylor will give Kat the time of day as she battles her disappointment. The two women laugh together in the launderette, as Karen knows exactly what it's like to be public enemy number one. However, after Kat starts pitching to Karen's customers, the budding friendship sours – and soon she is back to square one, without buyers for her services.

"Kat must wonder how it all went so wrong," sighs our spy.

"Kat must wonder how it all went so wrong..."

Will Denise offer Kat a sympathetic ear?

Mick feels like he's already been taken to the cleaners by Kat

"The last time she left town, she was heading off for a wonderful new life in Spain with Alfie and the kids. They were minted, too, thanks to the lottery win. Now she can't even get people to let her scrub their toilets."

Mind you, it's Stacey who's suffering the most. She's been tarnished by what Big Mo and Kat did, despite being unaware of the scam. Given the trauma of her marriage break-up and now this, Stacey needs love and support from her family. However, when they head over to the Vic for a drink, the locals are ready to give them a piece of their mind. Is there any way back for the Slaters now?

Kyle's cunning plot!

HE CAUSES HAVOC AT THE NIGHTINGALES' PARTY – BUT WILL JAMES THANK HIM FOR IT?

HOLLYOAKS | Channel 4 WEDNESDAY

Kyle finds himself torn between James and Sami this week, as he continues to play the pair off against each other!

Having agreed to help Sami with his revenge plan against James, Kyle is trying desperately to get James to fall in love with him. The only problem is, Kyle is starting to fall for James for real...

"Initially Kyle saw this as an easy job, because he quite fancies James – so he was getting paid to do something he enjoys," chuckles actor Adam Rickitt, who plays Kyle. "However, he starts to develop proper feelings for James, and that's when the task gets harder and harder for him."

Having been offered a large amount of money to help Sami with his wicked scheme, Kyle is desperate to do a good job – since he needs the cash to pay for stem-cell treatment in Mexico to help ease his MS symptoms. He's been lying to Sami that the plan is going well, when in fact it's failing miserably – and the stress of the situation pushes poorly Kyle into a relapse this week.

"Kyle has relapsing-remitting MS, and it tends to affect his muscles," explains Adam. "So unfortunately he does have a bit of an episode – but Sami is there for him. The way this storyline has been set up, there's no goody or baddy, as both Sami and Kyle have their reasons for doing what they're doing. And I think once the two of them find out what those reasons are, they form quite a nice emotional bond."

Kyle's loyalties are put to the test, though, when he gatecrashes a party designed

“There's no goody or baddy – they both have their reasons”

James is determined to cause trouble at his family's gathering

[Finnegan, aka James] – it was an entire day's filming, and he was absolutely on it all day."

Thanks to Kyle's meddling, it doesn't sound as though the bitter feud between these families will be put to bed any time soon! But will he end the week one step closer to making James fall in love with him? Or will Sami ramp up the pressure as he tries to bring down his nemesis once and for all?

Sarah Ellis

Kyle has agreed to help Sami with his nefarious plot to bring the warring Maalik and Nightingale clans together. And all hell breaks loose after James deliberately causes a scene to push people's buttons...

"James isn't invited to the party, but Kyle eggs him on to go and cause a stir anyway," grins Adam. "He's very much on James' side in all of this, and genuinely annoyed at Marnie for not standing by her son.

"Those scenes are some of the funniest I've ever seen on Hollyoaks, and filming them was absolutely awesome," adds the star. "Hats off to Greg

CAUGHT IN THE MIDDLE!

Who will Kyle pledge his allegiance to?

As this twisted triangle is bent further out of shape, Kyle may be forced to decide where his loyalties lie. So would he pick James or Sami?

"If it was a straight choice between the two of them, he'd pick James every time," reckons Adam. "But the real choice is between James and the stem-cell treatment. Even though Kyle has fallen for him big time, James treats him pretty badly! So as much as he loves James, is it worth risking his health for an infatuation which may never be reciprocated?"

There's something fishy going on!

JUDE'S NEW JOB RAISES SUSPICIONS IN THE STREET...

There's a shock in store for Mary this week – when she discovers the truth about Jude's working life.

Until recently, the marine biologist and his clan were struggling for money. What's strange is that Jude didn't seem in a hurry to get back to work – and even tried to dodge an interview for a job in his field. But while Mary and Angie were delighted when he landed a role back in the industry, why is Jude being so cagey?

"Jude has already explained that he was in a more senior position in South Africa, so this job isn't ideal," sighs our Corrie insider. "But at least it's not a million miles away from what he loves, and it'll bring in some money. Mary thought this might be a turning point for her son, and she's just desperate to be supportive. After all, the success of this job could decide whether Jude and his family stay in the area."

As Jude arrives home from work, Mary makes a big effort to chat about his day and to give him a chance to tell her about it. But instead of confiding in her, Jude is keen to move the conversation along.

Mary worries that the reason he's so closed about it is that her son is ashamed of her and doesn't want her involved in his professional life. So she resolves to bridge the gap by studying up on marine biology so that she can prove to Jude that she's capable of learning.

As usual, Mary goes over the top on her quest and boss Tracy is driven half-mad by her prattling on about the subject. But after Tracy spies Jude buying magazines about marine biology at the Kabin, she's intrigued and reckons

Mary is about to discover that all is not as it seems something isn't quite right. So when Mary later reveals that she and Angie plan to surprise Jude at work, Tracy can't resist the chance to tag along.

"Tracy is certain there's something fishy going on here!" jokes our punning mole. "Jude is acting odd, and Tracy wants to know why. When she and Mary get there, Tracy can't

"Mary thought this might be a turning point for her son..."

You can say that again!

OUR FAVOURITE RECENT SOAP QUOTES...

"Auntie Kat, well... She's going to be coming here soon, but not like that. You know Arthur's robot that he loves? You know when he runs out of batteries, he stops moving and all his lights go off? Well, Auntie Kat... She's stopped moving and all her lights aren't working any more."

It's a beautiful metaphor. Happily, Kat is anything but inanimate – and, especially in that new bra, her lights are on full beam.

"Practice my birth position? I'll be flat on my back, thank you. Gas and air in one hand, curling tongs in the other, bubbles chilling at me feet. Preferably pink. Put that in your action plan."

We look forward to seeing Eva screaming out "Oh! God! No!" between swigs of Rosé Frizzante.

Angie is grateful that her husband finally has a job

"Megan's coming over. She's had a tip-off about Meghan Markle's frock and reckons she can get me a dead ringer. She's got insider knowledge into Prince Harry's pants as well."

We really don't want to think about Bob Hope getting into Prince Harry's pants.

"I'm not the only one who will be impressed by the new, butch Chesney. I'm sure the ladies will soon come flocking."

"How do you work that one out?"

"Well, every woman loves a bad boy. How else do you explain my success over the years?"

We'll bet that the only edgy thing Brian has ever done is to not sort his mixed recycling properly.

"As a reward for your virtue, a little trip: yacht shopping for me. She's called Violet. I want you to head over to Anglesey and bid on her."

"I thought only medieval kings punished people with exile."

"A trip to Snowdonia, how will you live with the shame?"

We don't know who the Emmerdale writers are hanging out with if they think real people speak like this!

wait to confront Jude and hear what he has to say – but nothing can prepare Mary for what she sees when she comes face-to-face with her son."

With Angie on her way to join them, what will Mary, Tracy and Jude do now that the truth about Jude's job is out in the open?

Judith gives Ted short shrift when she arrives in the Square...

...while Bernadette is taken aback by how badly Ted is coping

EASTENDERS | BBC1 TUESDAY

Ted is devastated by Joyce's death!

Hearbroken Ted is overcome with grief this week, following the sudden death of his beloved wife Joyce.

"Ted is just completely numb with shock, and can't bring himself to think about anything," sighs our Walford mole. "His brain simply can't process what's happened – it's understandable given that he had been married to Joyce since they were both 21 years old, and the pair were due to celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary this year. He can't imagine life without her."

A few days after Joyce's death, Bernadette takes it upon herself to check in on Ted to see how he is coping – but she is alarmed to witness her good friend in such a terrible state. And Ted is forced to admit that he hasn't even plucked up the courage to tell his children about what's happened...

"Bernie's heart melts when she sees her chess pal so utterly devastated," sniffles our spy. "She soon realises that Ted is going to need a lot of practical help in terms of registering the death and organising the funeral. She also gently persuades him that he has to get in touch with his children and grandchildren."

But when Ted's daughter Judith arrives in Albert Square, she acts very coldly towards her father. She hasn't brought his grandkids with her, either, which only upsets Ted further as he was looking forward to seeing them again.

"There's clearly a bit of a rift between Judith and her dad," suggests our informant. "She is understandably distressed by her mother's death, but she's even more hurt by the fact that her father kept the news to himself for several days. She refuses to let him comfort her, and won't open up to him about her feelings. When Ted finally apologises to her, years of pent-up emotions come flooding out, and she accuses her dad of being a terrible husband to her mum, which wounds him even more."

Eventually things start to calm down, and father and daughter try to reconcile their differences by agreeing to meet up at the café. However, when they end up bumping

"Judith accuses her dad of being a terrible husband to Joyce..."

FUNERAL FEUD!

Joyce's funeral arrangements cause even more upset...

With poor Joyce waiting at the undertakers' to be buried, her funeral soon becomes another bone of contention between warring pair Ted and Judith.

Ted has a very firm idea of what he wants his beloved to be wearing in her coffin – but when Judith finds out, she deliberately goes against her dad's wishes, just to spite him! When Bernie discovers what's going on, she decides to take matters into her own hands, and goes to see Judith and try to make her see sense. But her intervention only serves to make the tense situation even worse, and Judith hurls abuse at the well-meaning youngster!

Undeterred, Bernie hatches a devious plan to calm things down. Will it do the trick?

Judith is clearly harbouring resentment towards Ted...

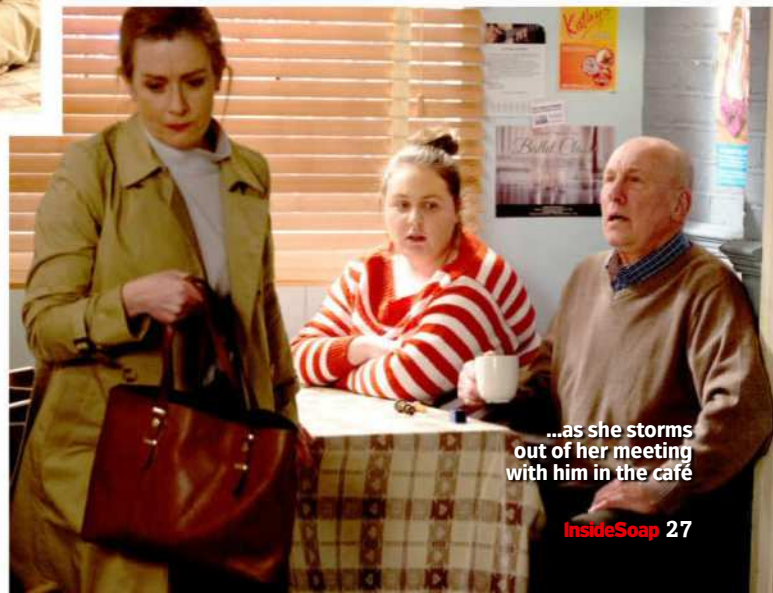

into Bernadette, Ted and Judith are soon having yet another argument.

"Judith can't understand why Ted seems to have more affection for Bernie than he does his own family," says our snitch. "So when he starts playing a game of chess with Bernie instead of giving his daughter the support that she clearly needs, Judith sees red. She angrily attacks her dad for neglecting his own flesh and blood, and even accuses him of trying to ruin her wedding day! Following Joyce's death, emotions are running high for the whole family, but Judith makes a fateful decision that will irreparably damage her relationship with Ted..."

Judith furiously flounces out of the café in order to make a phone call that will change Ted's life forever – but who is it that she's speaking to?

RANT! RAVE! WE LOVE TO HEAR YOUR OPINIONS!

COOL FOR KAREN

This week's EastEnders has been so much better than the misery of the last few months, and the best bit was Karen belting out Cool For Cats at Kat's wake in the Vic. She rocked and was word perfect! She should release it as a single, as that's a record I would definitely buy.

👤 | Johnnie, Milton Keynes

WIFE SWAP

My favourite soap is Corrie, but I have noticed that there are no long-term relationships any more as characters chop and change partners. Gone are the days of couples like Stan and Hilda Ogden or Jack and Vera Duckworth. Is this what producers think is a true reflection of today's society?

👤 | Mrs Denise Turner-Marsh

With actors constantly coming and going from the show, I guess it's often difficult to keep couples together for very long.

towards Robbo, she is breaking all the professional boundaries by blatantly discussing poor Jasmine's progress with Leah – a complete stranger – while she's unconscious. As a doctor, Tori should be facing disciplinary action for such a blatant breach of patient confidentiality.

👤 | Beckie

I'm not sure normal doctor-patient rules apply in soapland!

SHOUT ABOUT IT!

Does anyone else shout at their TV as much as I shout at Coronation Street? Recently, I've given Eileen Grimshaw a proper talking-to, telling her to open her eyes to Phelan. This week, I was shouting at Fiz to tell Tyrone the truth about Hope and Ruby. If my neighbours can hear me, Lord knows what they must think!

It's a good question! Do other Inside Soap readers yell abuse at their TVs? If so, write in and tell us about it!

CASHING IN?

Didn't EastEnders' Kat win a million quid on a scratch card? So why on earth would Stacey have to pay for her funeral?

👤 | Irene

The Moons' big win was three years ago – so maybe they've burned through the lot!

Debbie reckoned even she could grow a better beard than that

GUNG-HO JOE

I'm completely creeped out by the way that Joe in Emmerdale is forcing Debbie to be his girlfriend. Does he really think that she'll fall in love with him that way? He's such a horrible man. He may be proper fit, but he makes my skin crawl!

👉 | Jasmine, Oldham

I can't figure out what Joe's motivation is – does he really love Debbie, or is it all just about gaining power?

NOT SO CIN-FUL

I actually feel a bit sorry for Cindy in Hollyoaks. I know she's done some terrible things, like stealing £10,000 from her brother

Tom and sleeping with her daughter's boyfriend – but I don't think she does these things to be malicious. She was genuinely hurt when Dirk cheated on her with Myra, so I think she really just needs a decent man to love her.

👉 | Sally, Salisbury

I'm not sure anyone in Hollyoaks is brave enough for that job!

HOYLAND HARLOT

I'm so gutted that Izzy has left Ramsay Street already. I was really enjoying her mischievous antics, and although her presence wasn't good news for Karl and Susan, it was certainly great for us viewers!

With Holly staying in Erinsborough, though, I hope there will be a chance for Izzy to return in the future.

PUBLIC ENEMY NO 1

Weatherfield newcomer Josh Tucker is a proper laugh, one of the lads – everyone's best friend. But not to us viewers, because we know the terrible truth about what he did to David Platt...

It's a horrific storyline, and I can understand why there have been so many complaints about it – but it's so important for soaps to cover issues like this. If you featured male rape in 9pm drama on BBC1 or ITV, then that's all very well, but characters in a new drama series are effectively strangers. Characters in a soap are people we know well – we've known David Platt since he was born – and it helps to show that terrible things like this can also happen to our friends and neighbours.

👉 | Richard, Guernsey

Actor Ryan Clayton is brilliant at playing sleazy Josh. He'll be a great replacement for Phelan. It's the same sort of thing, isn't it? The viewers know the truth, and are left to watch in horror as he runs rings around everyone. Meanwhile, poor David is trapped by his own silence.

👉 | Charlene

Does Josh even know that he's done something wrong by drugging and raping David? Does he think what happened was consensual? It seems that he's a proper psychopath.

👉 | Ed

Yes, I think he knows what he did. But he's trusting that David will be too embarrassed to speak up. Let's hope he's underestimated his victim.

I get the feeling that Josh has done this before. But will he do it to someone else on Coronation Street? I fear the worst.

THE BIG interview

EMMERDALE | ITV EASTER MONDAY

“Priya is desperate to stand on her own two feet!”

As Priya rejects the family firm and goes job-hunting, Fiona Wade is backing her lonely alter ego all the way...

There's humiliation in store for Priya this week – as she's forced to dress up as a chicken in a desperate bid to find a new career!

Having fallen foul of her family when they accused her of hurting her young niece Eliza, the one-time factory boss is determined to prove that she doesn't need them. But after another incident with Eliza sees Megan and Jai dashing to the hospital once more, it seems the facts about the little one's injuries are set to be revealed.

What will they make of the truth? And what will it mean for Priya's future in the family? We sat down with actress Fiona Wade, who plays Priya, for a chat about her character's predicament...

Poor Priya – she's really going through the mill! How did you feel when you found out that she'd be accused of hurting Eliza?

I was surprised – I thought to myself, 'Oh my goodness, this is something very different and quite sensitive'. I was a bit worried, too, because I didn't want to scream and shout in front of the actors who play Priya and Jai's children. But it's another great little storyline, and something very different to what Priya's been through before. So it was good to get my teeth into it.

Priya has denied any wrongdoing when it comes to Eliza, so it'll be interesting to see what transpires this week. Do you feel protective of Priya through these bad times?

Yes, I'm quite defensive of her, because I love her and I love playing the character. At the moment she's feeling betrayed by her family, and is hurt and disappointed by how they've treated her. They're just not considering what she's been through. She does understand what they're experiencing, but she's very angry with Jai and Rishi. She feels alienated from her family – that's why she's trying to find a new job.

She's feeling pretty isolated at the moment, isn't she?

She is, yes. Priya doesn't have many girlfriends – Leyla was her best friend, and they've fallen out over Priya's affair with Pete. She doesn't have her guy. She's a single mother. She's a career woman as well, so she's juggling so many things. I think she just feels very low. Everyone else has moved on – and she especially sees Pete moving on with Rhona.

Is Priya jealous of them?

I don't think it's so much jealousy – more a symptom of the fact that she's on her own and has lost so much.

What about her bond with David?

David is Amba's father, and Priya would consider him one of her best friends. He's there for her, actually. But she's stuck in the middle of Tracy and David, and the problems they're having. Someone's always blaming Priya for something, and she does have a bit of a record. She's a good person, though! She's just a bit lost.

How does this current plot compare with the steamy scenes between Priya and Pete?

Do you know, I really enjoyed doing that storyline and I loved working with Anthony [Quinlan, who plays Pete]. This current storyline is a bit more isolating. It's great to work with Matthew [Wolfenden, aka David] again, though, because we hadn't properly for a while.

PARDON ME!

Priya's yoga trump was a breath of fresh air...

When Priya let out a little parp while stretching into a yoga pose recently, we weren't the only ones taken aback! And Fiona was delighted by the response...

"I was a little bit shocked when I first read it!" chuckles the actress, who's just celebrated her 39th birthday. "I was thinking, 'Was this written for someone else?'. But you know, sometimes you just have to do these things. It was a lighter note for Priya, and it got quite a lot of attention – there was stuff on Twitter. It was actually very funny..."

Might there be a new man on the cards for Priya?

I'm sure there will be, because Priya likes having her family unit. I think she feels complete when she has a guy – but I don't know who that might be yet. When they put Pete and Priya together, I thought it came out of nowhere, but actually it worked. So you never know! I've just done some scenes with Andrew Scarborough and Ned Porteous, who play Graham and Joe, and they're fantastic!

Do you think Priya can cope on her own in the meantime?

Well, you'll have to wait and see – but at the moment she's not coping. She's hurting. She tells herself that she doesn't need her family, and that's why she's going out on her own. Priya has always had her brother and her dad helping her, but now she's really trying to stand on her own two feet...

The voice of UNREASON

AS TROUBLED TEEN ALFIE STARTS TO HEAR A VOICE IN HIS HEAD, RICHARD LINNELL TELLS US THAT HIS LATEST STORYLINE IS DEALING WITH AN IMPORTANT TOPIC...

Hollyoaks has never shied away from the big issues, and this week the soap kicks off a high-profile mental health story as young Alfie begins to hear voices – and eventually we'll see him diagnosed with schizoaffective disorder. Actor Richard Linnell has the daunting task of taking on this storyline, but he's had support from a man whose own story pushed mental health into the public eye.

Jonny Benjamin was the man who campaigned via social media to find the Good Samaritan who talked him down from jumping off a London bridge in 2008 – an experience he later documented in the Channel 4 film The Stranger On The Bridge. And Richard, who admits he was nervous about the challenge of the story, was delighted to have Jonny's input...

"He is such an incredible man, and speaks so amazingly about the experience he had," enthuses the 20-year-old actor. "Jonny was so open to answering questions about it, ensuring that we had all of the little details right. He's so lovely and friendly, and just brilliant to talk to. It was incredible to meet him. After having those meetings with [mental health charity] MIND and talking to Jonny, I felt much happier, understood the condition, and was excited to get on with it."

Although fans may not have realised it, we've already witnessed the start of this new plot for Alfie in recent episodes.

"What we've seen is a period of mania where he was building Jadebot," Richard tells us. "That was the first time he heard the voice, and initially he thought it was the robot talking to him. In his state of grief for Jade, he thought, 'The robot's working, it's talking'. As it all progresses, he begins to realise that the voice is not coming from the robot – it's in his own head, which is deeply troubling at that point. It's a stark realisation that will be quite upsetting to watch."

Can't hear himself think: Distraught Alfie realises that the voice is inside his own head

The voice won't just be in Alfie's head, however. Viewers will be able to hear it as well, giving them an insight into the lad's experience.

"Initially, it's a calm, soothing, rather inviting voice," reveals Richard. "Then it starts feeding into the paranoia that Alfie is developing, to not trust his family, to think they're lying to him – which ironically they are, because as you know, the Nightingale family is crammed full of secrets!”

Helping hand: Jonny (right) supported Richard with the story

Jade in Heaven: Alfie lost his girlfriend to cancer, but recovered from the disease himself

It’s clear that such a demanding plot can take its toll on an actor, especially one as dedicated as Richard – so how does he manage to put his work behind him at the end of the day?

“You try your best to leave it at work, come home and chill out,” he shares. “I’ve found meditation to be a huge help with that. I’ve been meditating for the last year or so, because I’m quite an anxious person, and I find it helps to calm me down and reset my mind. Exercise is great, too, just to physically get your body pumping and try to get out all the tension.”

Richard hopes that this story will help promote a discussion about mental health, and points out how important soaps can be in that process.

The voice in his head starts to feed into Alfie’s paranoia

“What we really want is to inspire conversations in living rooms,” he explains. “We want people to watch it, relate to it, and then if we can inspire conversations between families at teatime, and have people talk about things and maybe look at it from different perspectives – that’s our whole goal there. Mental health does affect people. It’s nothing to be scared of, it’s nothing wrong, it’s not weakness, and there is help out there. We live in a world where it is treatable and it’s okay to talk about.”

After the huge cancer storyline with Jade, this is another heavy plot for Richard. Would he prefer to do some lighter stories one day?

“Of course you go, ‘Oh, I’d just like to come into work and have a laugh’,” he admits. “But that’s nowhere near as rewarding as this type of work.”

Michael Cregan

“It was one of the most surreal days of my life!”

Richard hit Westminster...

Richard and other Hollyoaks cast members made a memorable visit to Parliament in January to promote mental health issues.

“Ross Adams [Scott], Lauren McQueen [Lily] and I represented the show because of our mental health storylines,” recalls the actor. “You’ve had Ross’ depression-suicide attempt, Lauren’s self-harm and my upcoming story, which at that point I wasn’t allowed to talk about! There were mental health and media organisations there to discuss the issues with MPs, too.

“Afterwards we got a tour from Luciana Berger, our local MP at Hollyoaks. It was incredible. The Houses of Parliament are so big – you can tell they’ve been designed to evoke awe in people!”

INSIDE SOAP CHATS TO ANNIE JONES
ABOUT REPRISING
HER ROLE AS MUCH-LOVED JANE HARRIS...

There were squeals of excitement up and down Inside Soap Towers when we heard the news that Plain Jane Superbrain was on her way back to Neighbours after nearly 30 years. As Charlene's best friend, she was one of our favourite characters from the show's 80s heyday – not to mention the fact that she's the granddaughter of the legendary Mrs Mangel!

It seems that sweet-natured Jane has changed a little since we last met her, though – and according to Annie Jones, who reprises her classic role this week, Jane has begun to morph into her fearsome nan...

How did your return to Neighbours come about, Annie?

I was just craving working solidly – I've done a lot of guest roles over the years, but I was feeling a little bit unsatisfied. I really wanted to do something that I could spend a good month working on and sharpen my skills, and I thought what better place to do that than on Neighbours? So I approached the producers with my ideas, and thankfully they were thrilled to have me back.

What can you tell us about Jane's big return to the programme?

She's spent the past 28 years in London looking after Mrs Mangel, who is now

“It's always tourists who

Neighbours!”

Past meets present:
Jane encounters Chloe
Brennan on her return

Younger days: Jane and Mike were one of Ramsay Street's iconic couples

It's all going swimmingly: Jane supported Mike in his aquatic endeavours very elderly and frail. And there's some unfinished business of Mrs Mangel's that she wants Jane to come back and fix. So she returns with a hidden agenda – which may lead to a flashback or two!

How much has Jane changed since the 80s?

Well, because she's been looking after her grandmother for such a long time, Jane has absorbed a lot of Mrs Mangel's character traits, a lot of her views and attitudes. She's also become a history teacher since she's been in London. So she's quite an interesting character.

Being back on set felt almost like I was coming home

Jane used to work at Lassiters – so will she get involved with the hotel while she's back?

Yes, she runs into Paul, who used to be her old boss, so she does get involved with some fun things there. And she also stays at the hotel while she's in town. It was really interesting to see how things have changed, because in the old days the only props we had to play with were the filing cabinets – whereas now there are computers and all sorts of modern things!

What was it like for you to step back on to the Neighbours set after so many years away?

It was a strange combination of familiarity, almost like I was coming home, and the sense that a lot of things have changed. It's a very slick operation now – they've got the best cameras and lighting, and the sets have improved. We get to do many scenes outside now, too, because of the improvements to the outdoor sets.

The whole show looks beautiful.

How is the show different from when you played Jane the first time around?

The whole show is much faster now, so it's really full on! You can't have an off day, and you've got to be on the ball the whole time. You get through your scripts for the week and you think, 'Yep, I know what I'm doing' – but before you know it, you've got next week's scripts to learn as well. I say that with a smile, though, because I loved being so busy. It was a really good workout.

Jane was such a popular character back in the golden era of Neighbours. Do you still get stopped by fans who want to talk about her?

Funnily enough, it's often British tourists who stop by and want to talk about it – you guys must really love Neighbours! It's usually people who are travelling through who stop me and go, "Oh, your face is really familiar". But it's great that they do – a little bit embarrassing, but also really lovely.

Her kinda GUY!

It may have been three decades ago that Jane and her boyfriend Mike Young were the hottest couple on Ramsay Street, but Annie tells us that she and former cast mate Guy Pearce – who played Mike – are still the best of friends...

"There are a few people I keep in touch with, including Guy," she grins. "He actually did an album a couple of years ago, and he texted me asking if I'd like to be in the video for one of the singles [Fly All The Way] – and of course I said yes!

"That was great fun, and we got to play around doing that. I also filmed a guest role on a series he does called Jack Irish. Working on Neighbours is such an intense job that you're bound to form bonds for life."

STAR AMANDA HENDERSON REVEALS THAT AN ACCIDENT COULD MAKE ROBYN'S MARRIAGE TO GLEN THE BRIEFEST IN CASUALTY HISTORY...

Crash the wedding: The smash happened following Robyn and Glen's nuptials

The end for Glen?: Robyn's hubby is in a bad way

If like us you're still reeling from the end of last Saturday's Casualty episode – which saw Robyn and Glen involved in a devastating car crash just moments after their wedding – then you'd better brace yourself for more trauma this week!

As we pick up on the 'happy couple' in the immediate aftermath of the accident, it's clear that the honeymoon is well and truly over when the ambulance crew arrives to assess the damage. And it doesn't look good for the bride or groom...

"Robyn's taken the brunt of the impact as the van crashes into the driver's side," concussed and has a major nosebleed. But once she comes round and remembers that Glen has had a seizure, all her focus is on him – her injuries don't even matter."

Robyn is badly hurt – but all her focus is on Glen...

As the newly-weds are taken into the ED, Robyn refuses to even be checked over, and instead refers to a checklist she's written of things that need to happen to ensure Glen is looked after.

However, the news isn't good, and the pair are devastated to hear that Glen doesn't have long left to live.

"There is an operation Glen can have to make him more comfortable and stop the seizures," says Amanda. "But it wouldn't give him much longer, and everyone is reluctant to do it as the last thing they want is a death on the operating table.

"At this point, Robyn is going through every emotion possible," she adds. "She wants what's best for Glen, but she wants what's best for her as well. She doesn't want her brand-new husband to die."

We wouldn't like to spoil this episode for viewers by revealing whether or not Glen goes ahead with the op – though we can tell you that it's an emotional watch.

Law and disorder!

Tim Franklin talks Colby's secret past...

Being a law enforcer in Summer Bay is no easy task, especially now those pesky River Boys are back in town! But new cop on the block Colby seems to be taking it all in his stride – as is Home and Away's latest recruit Tim Franklin, who plays him...

bad with cuffs and he's a good shot – he'll be using these skills in the Bay!

We get an inkling that he has history with River Boy Dean – what can you tell us?

Let's just say the audience won't know where Colby's loyalties lie! He wants to help people, as he doesn't want what happened to him in the past to happen again. And if he can help these people in the Bay, he might be able to forgive himself for something that went on in his life...

Can you tell us about Colby?

Colby has had a very turbulent upbringing, and the trauma, heartache and loss has shaped him into a very stoic guy. He's striving to be a better man than the example he was given. He's loyal beyond doubt, and he's always keen for a laugh – but something from his past prevents him from truly connecting with people.

How's it been playing a cop?

It was quite daunting at first, but it's become truly engaging to find the human beyond the uniform. It is any kid's dream job – pretending to be a cop and chase bad guys!

What else is coming up?

Colby is trying to solve a case he's carried around since he joined the force – and it's personal...

Sarah Ellis

Is Colby good at his job?

He is very gifted at what he does. He has a keen eye, he isn't

Colby pity:
What is the Bay cop's sad past?

Luckily for Amanda, she had a trusted friend to guide her through filming...

"Amanda Mealing [Connie] was directing, and she was amazing," grins the star. "I love working with her as I trust her as an actor, and I trust what she's asking me to do. It was just little things she did, like not putting a big emotional scene at the end of the day so we wouldn't have to rush filming it. She gave me the time to get into the state I needed to be in."

Shooting the tear-jerking scenes took four weeks in total, and spending that long crying took its toll on frazzled Amanda. So how did she switch off after a long, hard day at work?

"Is it wrong to say with a large glass of wine?" she chuckles. "It takes over your life while you're filming it. As much as I tried to go home and relax, I then had to start learning scripts for the next day, so I was constantly working. The only time I switched off was when my head hit the pillow – I've never slept so well, that's for sure!"

10 totally true FACTS about... Anthony Quinlan

YOUR InsideSoap BRIEFING ON THE MAN BEHIND EMMERDALE'S PETE...

1 Anthony was born in April 1985 and came to our attention as Gilbert 'Gilly' Roach – a man the actor described as “a pushover” – in Hollyoaks from 2005 to 2011. Anthony was nominated for Sexiest Male at the 2010 Inside Soap Awards – clearly on account of his rock-star chic!

2 Anthony made his Emmerdale debut in December 2013 as Pete, the eldest son of James Barton. Pete arrived with younger brother Finn (Joe Gill) in tow, and together they joined middle brother Ross (Michael Parr), who had turned up earlier in the year. The family unit was completed in 2015, when the three brothers were joined by their crazy mum Emma (Gillian Kearney). But within three years, the Barton family had been ripped apart, with James, Emma and Finn all finishing up six feet under.

4 We all remember the catastrophic chopper crash in Emmerdale a few years ago, but Anthony remembers it for all the wrong reasons! As the dramatic scenes were recorded, the star endured a small accident in the trouser department... “My pants split!” he revealed. “Rescuing Debbie from the rubble, I bent down and my fat arse split my pants. It was quite revealing!”

3 After leaving Hollyoaks but before joining Emmerdale, Anthony spent some time working as a delivery driver for online shoppers. “Yeah, I was out of work for a while,” shares the actor. “I had bills and a mortgage to pay. I was going stir-crazy anyway, so I took a job as a driver, delivering all sorts. I’d turn up to people’s houses and they’d be like, ‘Didn’t you used to be in Hollyoaks? Why are you doing this now?’”

5 Although he played Manchester City fan Gilly in Hollyoaks, in real life Anthony is a diehard Manchester United fan. Awks!

7 Anthony qualified as a personal trainer when he was just 18 years old and worked at a gym in Manchester. More recently, he's put his sportiness to good use by raising money for cancer charities. Last year he took part in a CrossFit comp called Battle Cancer 2017 and the Stoke-on-Trent City Of Sport triathlon, which involved cycling, swimming and running.

8 As a lover of a healthy lifestyle, Anthony's favourite drink is Popeye juice, containing a mix of broccoli, celery, spinach, kale and mint, with a squeeze of lemon. In fact, he even claims to prefer to snack on broccoli during the day rather than eating chocolate bars! We're sure it's more healthy, but it doesn't sound like the tastiest teatime treat to us...

9 In 2010, Anthony appeared on an edition of Derren Brown Investigates – but it wasn't a great success. Anthony was quizzed by self-proclaimed psychic Joe Power, who kicked off his interrogation by asking the actor if he was one of three siblings. Or even, perhaps, one of two? Only-child Anthony was forced to admit that he wasn't. Unfazed, Joe went on to ask Anthony if there'd been an accident, or even an incident with a bike, when he was 14 years old? It turned out that there hadn't been... and the session pretty much went downhill from there.

6 Anthony is good friends with his two on-screen brothers Michael and Joe, and the trio once planned to move in together to form a lads' house! However, the group eventually decided against it – because, as they explained to the Loose Women team, "it would have been chaos! We'd never have shown up for work!"

10 Anthony once claimed to be as unlucky in love as Pete Barton himself, despite previously romancing Corrie star Michelle Keegan (Tina McIntyre). He told The Sun in 2015: "Of course, I'd love to meet the right person, and eventually I'd like to get married and start a family, but there's no rush." Fate seems to have been kinder recently, though, as he embarked on a relationship with Strictly professional Dianne Buswell after being introduced by ex-Dales cast mate Gemma Atkinson (Carly Hope). Aw – now we just need Pete to find his own perfect woman!

“Shona thinks that she is the problem!”

DAVID'S SILENCE ABOUT HIS RAPE TRAUMA COULD COST HIM HIS RELATIONSHIP, WARNS CORRIE'S JULIA GOULDING...

David Platt's life has been changed forever by the rape he suffered at the hands of evil Josh. He's devastated by what happened, and like many victims of rape feels unable to tell his loved ones that he was attacked. Instead, David has internalised his pain and is full of rage, lashing out at those who love him most. For his worried girlfriend Shona it's a terrible time – and as her real-life alter ego Julia Goulding explains, it's mostly because she thinks David has simply fallen out of love with her...

“David has become very distant with Shona – he's snappy, angry and short-tempered,” says the star. “He's not engaging with anything, but she's focusing on him not engaging with her. She doesn't see the bigger picture and that he's like this with his kids, with Gail and at work.”

They've overcome many hurdles in order to be together, not least the fact that Shona's son Clayton murdered David's wife, Kylie. Shona thought they were blissfully happy together, but the combination of David's behaviour and the couple not having been intimate for a while has made her doubt their feelings.

“Shona thinks she's the problem and that David doesn't want to be with her any more, but he's just not telling her,” shares Julia. “They were very loved-up over Christmas, and it has literally changed overnight. She can't, for the life of her, think of a reason why – so she assumes it must be to do with her.”

Fed up, Shona confronts David about why they haven't been together for a while and asks him to join her in bed. He agrees, though after she goes upstairs, he grabs his coat and leaves. It's heartbreaking for Shona, who tells David to stop messing her around. In a desperate bid to make things right, David takes Shona to bed, but she knows something is really off.

“One minute David is snapping back at Shona, saying there is nothing wrong, and the next he is getting aggressively sexual with her – so she doesn't know whether she is here or there,” bemoans

David is very distant with Shona – he's snappy and angry...

Bottling it up: David is struggling in the wake of Josh's sexual assault on him

Julia. “Shona is completely at a loss about what to do with him. She's so hurt and says she feels as if he is just going through the motions. David says that maybe it's best for her to leave, and he tells her that he doesn't love her!”

The tragedy is that David needs Shona's love and support now more than ever. But shattered by his harsh words, she feels that she has to go...

"It's gut-wrenching for her," sighs Julia. "She saves face in front of him because she is so shocked, she can't possibly believe this is what he is saying to her. Shona loves him with all of her being, but he's said that he doesn't love her – she's adamant that this is the end. She feels really stupid."

Having pushed Shona away, David is more alone than ever – however, things are only going to get worse. Coronation Street has worked closely with Survivors Manchester, a charity that supports men and boys affected by sexual abuse and rape. It's been crucial to everyone to get this story right.

"It's an important issue and a very brave issue for Corrie to tackle," Julia tells us. "I had every faith, I didn't question it in any way as hard subjects are done with such sensitivity and proper justice. It's the aftermath that is the important story: the way David deals with what's happened and his mental health. I feel privileged to have been trusted with this storyline."

Josh's next MOVE

Fresh horror for David...

His break-up with Shona is sadly the least of David's worries this week, as wicked Josh continues to torment him. Standing by his twisted fabrication that what happened to David was consensual, Josh corners his victim in the Rovers backyard and confronts him about his split from Shona – and has the nerve to order him to pull himself together!

As David reels from Josh's relentless efforts to intimidate him, will his rapist's brazen denial of the truth finally cause David to snap? Or will bully boy Josh succeed in shaming his broken victim into maintaining his silence?

DANNY WALTERS

EastEnders' Keanu Taylor

...faces your questions!

They ANSWER!

Keanu survived getting in way over his head with Aidan and co in Walford, but will Danny survive his interrogation from the readers of Inside Soap?

"Which member of the Taylor family is most different from their on-screen character in real life?"

I would say every single one of us! They all play their characters so well on the show. In real life, Lorraine Stanley [Karen] doesn't walk around with her bra strap hanging out and her crazy hairstyle. She is beautiful, glamorous and absolutely amazing.

"You look super-snazzy in real life, but what do you think of Keanu's fashion sense?"

I'm not too sure about Keanu's fashion sense! I think he just goes for whatever is right in front of him and thinks 'That'll do'. For Keanu, clothes and other material stuff are at the bottom of his list. But Danny Walters looks after himself. He loves a double-breasted suit! Keanu... maybe not.

"Are you still in touch with your former Benidorm co-stars?"

"Who do you keep in touch with from your time in Benidorm?"

So many! Benidorm was a great job, with so many fantastic comical actors in the cast. I still keep in touch with Tony Maudsley [Kenneth], Jake Canuso [Mateo] and [writer] Derren Litten. It's one of those jobs that will always have a big place in my heart, because it was such fun to do.

"Would you ever grow your hair back, like you had it in Benidorm?"

I want to say yes, I'd love to grow my hair back – but I don't think that's Keanu's look. I was actually cast in EastEnders when I still had my quiff and long hair. Then they cast the rest of the family and I felt out of place. So they decided to shave my head, and it just seemed so right for the character. I can't imagine Keanu with anything but a shaved head now!

"How long has it taken you to get your body looking like that, and how often do you go to the gym?"

It all depends on what I'm training for, and what my objectives are. I got into health

Love and support: Danny feels blessed to work with his Taylor family co-stars and fitness a long time ago. Fitness is a big part of my life now, and I enjoy it. I've always got to try to keep in shape, because I never know when I'm going to have a topless scene in EastEnders! [laughs]

"We saw you dancing on Children In Need – so are you good enough for Strictly Come Dancing?"

Who knows? Davood Ghadami [Kush] did the last series, and he was amazing. When I first started training to be an actor, I did a ballet lesson and wore a pair of skinny jeans. That confirms how bad a dancer I am!

"Judging by your Instagram posts, you're clearly a keen traveller, so do you have a favourite place in the world to visit, and where would you like to travel to next?"

The first year I got together with my girlfriend Lily, I took her to Rome for Valentine's Day. But – big mistake!

Once you start with Rome, you have to top that every year, which gets expensive! I want to see the whole world, though. That's why I'm so fascinated by David Attenborough, because there's so much of the world we don't normally see. As an actor, I think it's important to see the world, and to see other cultures. It makes you a better person and actor.

"Are there any plans for Hannah Spearritt to come back as Karen's sister, Kandice?"

I didn't work too much with Hannah – I only did one scene with her. So

I'm not too sure what the future holds for Hannah on the show, but she played a fantastic

"How was it working with Steve McFadden [Phil]?"

"Have you enjoyed working alongside the big boys of EastEnders, like Steve McFadden [who plays Phil] and Danny Dyer [aka Mick]?"

It was a fantastic opportunity to work with Steve, Richard Blackwood [Vincent], Perry Fenwick [Billy], Danny, and Patrick Bergin [Aidan Maguire]. The storyline was fantastic – it was witty character and was a brilliant addition to the Taylor family.

"Who have you been most star-struck to meet?"

...asks reader Ryan Harris from Newcastle upon Tyne

I don't really get star-struck, but I'm totally fascinated by David Attenborough. He's such an inspirational guy, and to meet him backstage at the NTAs was a real honour. You can't get bigger than what he does – trying to change the world with his organisations.

Crushed heist: It's fair to say that Keanu and co's robbery didn't quite go to plan and it was dark. There were so many layers to the storyline, so it was really enjoyable to play that out with such a talented bunch of actors.

"Would you like to see Keanu and Jay become the new bad boys of Albert Square?"

We haven't properly delved into that friendship too much yet, so I'm not sure what's going to happen. Keanu really can't handle Mitch being in the Taylor house, so he stays around at Jay's house for a few nights. There is a nice relationship forming between Keanu and Jay, so let's just wait and see...

HAT trick

Corrie's Michael Le Vell (Kevin) and EastEnders' James Bye (Martin) have both been spotted lurking beneath the brim of a baker-boy cap – along with former Dales resident Adam Thomas (Adam Barton), who's long been a hat man. However, one soapie who should sign up for the look is Emmerdale's Michael Parr (Ross), who needs something to keep his crazy new hairdo under control!

Blast from the past

“I wanted to get a few things off my chest!”

As soap veteran Ken Farrington unleashes his autobiography, he's taking no prisoners...

During a successful career spanning six decades, actor Ken Farrington has scored a hat-trick of soap roles. Prior to stops in Emmerdale village and Family Affairs' Charnham, the 81-year-old veteran had a recurring role in Corrie lasting a quarter of a century. With a wealth of acting experience behind him, Ken has plenty to share, and recently published his memoirs, Hush My Mouth – in which he doesn't mince his words...

“It's sure to upset a few people,” he confesses. “I've worked to the ripe old age that I have so I can tell my story without worrying about who I offend! That's where the title of the book came from. I wanted to get a few things off my chest, but hope I haven't been vindictive.”

Having made his television debut in 1960, Ken pitched up in Weatherfield the following year. He played Billy, son of legendary Rovers landlady Annie Walker – but didn't expect to be stalking the Street for long.

“I'd originally auditioned to be Dennis Tanner, but didn't get the part,” reveals the actor. “The role of Billy was written in for me instead, and I was initially given a seven-month contract. That seemed quite sufficient, as I didn't want to be stuck in one role for the rest of my life. But over the next 25 years I kept going back. I absolutely loved it, and wish I could still do it.

“In 1984, though, Billy left the Street again – and while he wasn't killed off, I think they wanted me to go.”

Billy's last stand may have been related to a move made by Ken that he's since come to regret – going public about unrest behind the scenes.

“A letter was sent out to the cast by Coronation Street bosses,” he shares. “It was about people turning up late and not learning their lines properly, telling everyone to pull their fingers out. I leaked it to the press, which I'm a bit ashamed of now.”

By the time Ken's role as ruthless Jack Gates in new Channel 5 soap Family Affairs came along, he was still keen to call out issues where he saw them. But his Charnham residence got off to a great start nonetheless.

“Family Affairs was an exceedingly good show, and we were very proud of it,” he recalls. “There was a lovely atmosphere, but then Brian Park – the producer who'd previously axed large numbers of the Corrie cast – took over. I suspected he'd do a similar thing at Family Affairs, and wrote him a stinking letter. I didn't last long after that, which I was very sad about.”

Six years later, Ken was contacted about a role in the Dales – an offer which came out of the blue.

“I never expected to get the job,” he admits. “I loved it at Emmerdale, too, but there were some things I didn't like. I used to have quite a few battles with the scriptwriters, but I enjoyed playing Tom [patriarch of the King clan], who was rather dominating. Maybe a little like myself!”

Twelve years after Tom's grisly demise at the hands of son Carl, Ken has developed a passion for writing. As well as his autobiography, he's compiled a travelogue about France, where he currently lives, and written a TV script. But he's also keen to pass on the benefit of his life's experience...

“I want to debunk the idea that acting is about being a celebrity,” he claims. “You've got to be thick-skinned. While my career could have gone better, it could have gone a lot worse. And I can't complain – I've made a living out of it!”

ORDEAL BY INNOCENCE | BBC1 EASTER SUNDAY

MAKING A KILLING

BILL NIGHY, MORVEN CHRISTIE AND CHRISTIAN COOKE TELL US ABOUT FILMING THE LATEST AGATHA CHRISTIE ADAPTATION...

If there's one thing you can guarantee with an Agatha Christie adaptation, it's that there will be lots of famous faces in the cast. The BBC's latest three-parter, Ordeal By Innocence, truly delivers on that score, starring Anna Chancellor, Bill Nighy, Morven Christie and Poldark's Eleanor Tomlinson.

The story concerns the murder of wealthy philanthropist Rachel Argyll, for which her adopted son Jack was arrested, despite insisting his innocence. Eighteen months later, Dr Arthur Calgary visits the family home claiming to have an alibi to exonerate Jack – but Jack has since died in prison. However, if Dr Calgary is telling the truth, then Rachel's killer is still at large...

"Rachel and her husband adopted five children," explains Bill, who plays the Argyll patriarch. "All of whom have what you might call 'shaky pasts', and therefore they are handy for looking very guilty for long periods! Hopefully the audience will bounce around a lot trying to work it out."

"The mystery is about who did the murder, but it's more about investigating their motives," teases Morven, who plays the Argylls' housekeeper Kirsten. "All the characters have reasons why it could have been them. There's lots of resentment in the family. There are certain ways that the children have been treated that Kirsten might have grudges or bitterness about..."

The series was originally scheduled to air last year, but it was delayed after allegations of sexual assault against Ed

Westwick, who played Mickey Argyll. The producers took the unusual step of recasting the role after filming had wrapped, and Christian Cooke was brought in for reshot scenes.

"The director and producers were very sensitive about making it all fresh for me," explains Christian. "I didn't see anything that was done before, and my approach was the same as for any other scene – you read it with the actors and you block it in a way that feels natural. There were some large group scenes where they couldn't reshoot all of it, so it was a bit 'paint by numbers' – but it never felt awkward or difficult. It was a really fun job, under the circumstances."

The Undateables

I love The Undateables

– I want to date all of them! At first I thought, ‘Undateables? I don’t know if I like the sound of that’, but when I watched it I just fell in love with everybody. I think programmes like that generally have a bit of heart to them.

I was off on Sunday, so I’ve just finished episode 10 of The Crown on Netflix.

I was actually saving it, because I didn’t want it to be, “That’s it, I’ve watched the final episode”. So I watched nine and then didn’t watch the tenth for ages!

I’m in rehearsals for a show in Edinburgh right now that’s six days a week, so I’ve not had much chance to watch telly – and I’m desperate to go to the pictures, too! I, Tonya, Three Billboards, The Shape Of Water... I can’t wait to see all of them.

Growing up, I used to love it when Mr Benn would go into the wardrobe and there would be a different world. I used to dress up under my covers, and pretend it was me going into a different world! And Dallas was great, too. We used to play that at school – my friend had blonde hair, so she was Charlene Tilton. She’d be getting married and I’d take off my underskirt to be her veil!

I would love to play some colourful character in Inside No. 9, and I think my cast mate Greg [Hemphill, aka Victor in Still Game] is the same! It reminds me of Tales Of The Unexpected, which used to be my favourite programme.

So I’d love a part in that – if you could put that bit in bold letters, that would be wonderful!

The miniseries was filmed in Scotland, and the house in Inverkip that doubled as the Argylls’ home created a fantastic eerie atmosphere – with some ghost stories of its own...

“I didn’t see anything, but Ludo – who owns the house – told me some stories,” recalls Morven. “Somebody said to me, ‘Have you seen the nursery?’ and I opened this door and it was dark with swinging shutters, bare floorboards and a solitary rocking horse in the middle of the floor!”

WHAT HAPPENS IN VEGAS

ANITA HARRIS, JESS CONRAD, BOBBY CRUSH AND SU POLLARD ARE AMONG THE BRIT STARS TAKING THE STRIP BY STORM...

Getting a gig in Las Vegas is every entertainer's badge of honour – and in this new five-part series, British stars from the 60s, 70s and 80s get a once-in-a-lifetime chance to make their dreams come true. Comedians Mick Miller and Cannon & Ball, entertainers Bernie Clifton and Su Pollard, musician Bobby Crush and singers Kenny Lynch, Jess Conrad and Anita Harris are on the bill for a one-night-only gig. We asked Bobby, Anita, Jess and Su how they feel about seeing their names in lights, and if they have what it takes to wow a Vegas crowd...

Has Vegas always been a dream of yours?

Bobby I'd been there as a visitor on numerous occasions, and all the time I'm there thinking, 'Wouldn't it be great to be up on a Vegas stage?' – never believing that I would. And the venue that we ended up playing was where I'd been to see Dionne Warwick and Burt Bacharach and the Pointer Sisters – and all of a sudden, there I am!

Anita When I was 16, I was there as a dancer, in a dancing line in a place called the El Rancho Vegas – which unfortunately burnt down after I left! So when this invitation came through, it was a bit scary to go back somewhere that remained so potentially in your head and your heart.

You're being mentored by female impersonator and legend of Las Vegas Frank Marino. What was he like?

Jess He said he wanted me to change my image, and I've been so long building this silly image up! He wanted me to dress like a cowboy, and I said no, because in England women still fall for me – mainly because they're too old to stand up – and they don't want me coming on and yodelling like a cowboy. PAULINE McLYNN IS NUN THE WISER IN A CELEBRATION OF A LEGENDARY IRISH COMEDIAN...

Comedian Dave Allen stood out for going against the grain, so it's fitting that this one-off drama celebrating his work is a bit of a maverick too. It tells Allen's life story in the style of his comedy, intercutting the dramatic elements with comic sketches, and has cameos from lots of TV favourites – including Pauline McLynn as Sister Mary, a nun who meets her match in the young Dave...

"I never seem to play a nice nun!" chuckles Pauline. "It's great to have had my hands on the young Dave Allen – literally! All through the story you see how being educated by the Irish clergy shaped him into the man he was, and how he got out from under it as well, which is very inspirational."

The grown-up Dave Allen is played by Game Of Thrones star Aidan Gillen, and while Pauline was disappointed not to have any scenes with him, she was impressed by his resemblance to the comic.

"I saw him walking down a corridor and I was looking at him going, 'It's Dave Allen!'" she recalls. "He's magnificent – but I did get to be with the small Dave Allen and his brother, and they were just fabulous. Those kids were great, they put you to shame! Tommy Tiernan is great as his father, too. You can see where Dave got his love of telling stories. It's beautifully done."

something elaborate which was rather nice, and we were both happy. Su He knows exactly what his audience is, and he knows how to play the theatre. His criticism was constructive, and I thought, 'We're here, he's supposed to be looking after us, don't be mardy'. Take the note, move on, and do it better.

You were in Las Vegas at the time of the mass shooting that made international news – how did that affect you all?

Bobby My television wasn't working, so the first I knew of it was about midnight – I was just dropping off to sleep and I got a text message from a friend saying, 'Just heard the news, are you okay?'. I went down to the main lounge area, where a lot of the crew had gathered, and that's how I first found out about it. The whole atmosphere turned on a dime – total shock.

Su Frank came around the next day and said, "We totally understand if you guys want to go". So we all discussed it, and we said, "Look, we need to continue, because in a situation like this, people want to be cheered up and entertained. As long as we're sensitive about it, we'll just go forward as we always have". Can you imagine saying, "Come on lads, we have to go home, then"? No!

RAISING THE TONE

BAZ ASHMAWY IS HELPING HOPELESS SINGERS SCALE THE HEIGHTS...

Any X Factor viewer knows a tone-deaf singer on a talent show is no rare sight. But on Change Your Tune, that's the whole point: the contestants on this show are aware they can't sing, but have signed up in the hope of learning how to improve their voice...

"It's not about finding a superstar, it's about people who've always wanted to get up and sing and giving them that moment," says Baz Ashmawy, who hosts the show. "It has a little bit of that 'Tonight, Matthew...' feel about it!"

After giving a performance to prove just how disastrous their singing is, the contestants are given an intensive course with a coach before coming back to sing again – and the most-improved singer in each episode wins £10,000.

"I think it's a nice message, that you don't have to be the best," muses Baz. "It's getting up and giving it a go – it's a nice twist on the singing format. None of these people take themselves too seriously!"

SAM NIXON AND MARK RHODES GIVE THE PUBLIC A LIFT IN A NEW GAME SHOW...

Gone are the days when becoming a game show contestant meant filling in an application form. In BBC1's Ready Or Not, the presenters take members of the public by surprise, and persuade them to take part in a variety of challenges to win fabulous prizes! One of the games is hosted by Sam Nixon and Mark Rhodes – who found it a very uplifting experience...

Your game is called The Lift – tell us about it...

Sam Mark and I took over a shopping centre lift for a whole day – which I'm sure annoyed a lot of people! As soon as someone tried to get in, we would surprise them. Mark and I took turns – one of us would hide on a floor of the shopping centre with a prize, and the other would be in the lift with the contestant to ask them questions.

How do contestants get to win a prize?

Sam If they get the question right, they pick a floor, and if it's the floor that the prize is on, they win it. If they get the question wrong, they're out of the game. And if they get the question right, but pick the wrong floor, we keep going until they find it. It was strange – we were in this tiny lift, but it was a very tense game show.

You had no idea what to expect from the contestants – what were they like?

Mark My favourite bit was when we asked an elderly lady about rap music. She didn't know what we were talking about! But they are true-or-false questions, and she ended up getting it right!

It sounds as though you were kept on your feet too?

Sam It was shattering – as soon as we got a contestant, one of us had to go to the floor where the prize is. It could be on the seventh floor, but we had to leg it up the stairs!

Mark I know – we got our 10,000 steps in that day!

THE MISSING LINKS

DANNY PINO, LEVEN RAMBIN AND CHRIS NOTH TALK ABOUT FILMING THE MISSING-PERSONS DRAMA...

“Most crime shows start with a dead body – but we don’t,” Chris Noth tells Inside TV, as we join the cast of crime drama Gone for a chat in a London hotel. “We start with the possibility of saving someone alive, but they could die if we’re not good at what we do.”

That inherent urgency is the reason why Chris’ character Frank Novak recruits Army veteran John Bishop and former kidnap victim Kick Lannigan into a special missing-persons task force, hoping their unique expertise will help them to track down the disappeared more quickly.

“Frank represents the good in the world to Kick, when she’s seen men do terrible things,” explains actress Leven Ramin, who plays her. “She sees him as a pillar of safety and trust – she says, ‘I don’t believe in God, I believe in Frank’.”

Filming the drama was sometimes a hectic experience for the cast, who would often be working on two episodes at once – meaning that they constantly had to remind themselves which case their characters were supposed to be working on in any given scene.

“You’re dealing with different storylines and different investigations,” shares Danny Pino, who plays Bishop. “You’d have to try to forget what you’d just shot, in order to shoot a different episode the very next minute – and try to upload that information in a way that sounded human and not like a robot! That was a challenge for all of us.”

THE VOICE UK | ITV 8.30PM

Power to the people

We've reached the semi-finals, and The Voice UK is going live for the first time this series – which means it's time for the viewers at home to make their own voices heard by voting for their favourite singers.

"It's in the viewers' hands now," muses coach Jennifer Hudson. "So we have to talk the contestants up to the viewers as best we can!"

"I'm looking forward to just sitting on a chair and watching them sing," adds Olly Murs. "I'm hoping the contestants raise the bar and smash it – we can only comment because it's up to the people at home to vote. And there's no deadlock, so I'm happy as pie – I'll leave all that to Emma this time!"

Only one act from each team can advance to the final – so use your votes wisely, folks!

DON'T Miss!

ANT & DEC'S SATURDAY NIGHT TAKEAWAY | ITV 7PM

This series of Saturday Night Takeaway was facing a bit of an uncertain future following the cancellation of last week's episode, after Ant's arrest on suspicion of drink-driving. But Dec and the team have made the difficult decision to carry on with the final two episodes of the series – which Dec will be presenting solo. Tonight's episode will doubtless feel a little strange for all involved (viewers included), though helping to keep things moving along will be guest announcer Stephen Merchant – and singer Paloma Faith will be on board to perform in the 'End Of The Show Show'.

THE GENERATION GAME | BBC1 8PM

DON'T Miss!

Family favourites

This Mel and Sue-fronted revival of the classic show arrives with a bit of baggage, with reports that the planned run was cut from four episodes to two, but Inside TV chose to approach it with an open mind and we... really enjoyed it!

The challenges bring the slapstick fun that we remember from the original, and Mel and Sue's Bake Off-honed empathy for the contestants and ear for innuendo sets the right tone. The opening challenge in which four contestants try to follow Johnny Vegas' tutorial on how to make a clay teapot pushes pre-watershed viewing to its limits (a tea-towel shields impressionable eyes from some of the more suggestive gestures!) – but that's all part of the fun. Go on, give it a chance.

THE BIG PAINTING CHALLENGE | BBC1 6PM

Mariella Frostrup and Reverend Richard Coles return with a brand-new series of the competition that puts amateur artists under the supervision of professional mentors, to see if they can achieve a brush with greatness. The first test for the ten contestants upon their arrival is a still-life portrait, where they will be rendering objects that they brought with them from their own homes. And following a masterclass on volume and tone, the contestants head to a distillery where their next challenge is to paint the large, shiny components used in the production of gin and whisky.

Virtual learning

The boundaries between the real world and the virtual world start to blur in this ambitious and stunningly designed new drama from Skins creator Bryan Elsley. After the death of her mother, lonely Leila seeks solace in a virtual reality game called Azana as her avatar Shadowfax – but one time when she signs in, she doesn't end up in her favourite combat arena, and instead finds herself in a strange paradise called Red Pill.

While she's kicked back out, she is intrigued by both the place and the people she met. The next day she sees Mania (aka Tess), one of the other players, waiting outside the café where she works. Mania promises her that "everything's going to get better now" – but what does she mean?

LENNY HENRY: THE COMMONWEALTH KID | BBC1 9PM

Regional variations

Lenny Henry's parents moved to Dudley from Jamaica in 1957 – and so, with roots in both the West Midlands and the West Indies, Lenny considers himself a child of the Commonwealth. In this one-off documentary, he'll be taking a closer look at the relationship between the British crown and the billions of citizens of the Commonwealth – and what it means to be a long way from the UK but still connected to it. Lenny will be taking a tour of the Caribbean, including Jamaica and the Bahamas, in order to find out what "the Commonwealth" actually means to the people who live there now.

WESTWORLD: THE STORY SO FAR | Sky Atlantic 9PM

The second season of Westworld is just a few weeks away, so you still have time to hop on to Sky Box Sets or NOW TV and get up to speed with the critically-acclaimed drama. But if you don't have 10 hours to spare, this handy catch-up episode does all the heavy lifting for you. It features input from the cast and celebrity fans – and offers a few teasers of what to expect from season two.

SUPergirl | Sky One 8PM

Kara forges an unlikely alliance this week when she enlists the help of Saturn Girl, Livewire and Psi to retrieve a prisoner from Fort Rozz, who may know how to defeat Reign. Back on Earth, Alex embarks on some adventures in babysitting...

THE WALKING DEAD | Fox 9PM

As always, we only have the barest bones of plotlines for tonight's episode as the team behind this show are a secretive lot (and fair play, it's worked well so far), but we know Rick and Morgan find themselves in the company of strangers...

COME HOME | BBC1 9PM

From both sides now

In last week's opening episode, Marie only existed on the fringes of what we witnessed. We saw brief, awkward encounters between her and Greg, and we heard stories of her leaving her family – but we didn't know why, and we didn't know her. Tonight's instalment brings Marie to the foreground – but if you're expecting instant answers as to what exactly drove her to walk out, you'll need to be patient because this drama is very deliberately taking its time.

What we do see from the off, however, is that Marie hasn't succeeded in making a clean break: she misses her children, she's still haunted by her memories, her old friends are blanking her, and she's having to lie to her new friends...

CUNK ON BRITAIN | BBC2 10PM

We still can't quite work out if she's gormless or a genius, but what we do know is that Philomena Cunk, breakout star of Charlie Brooker's Weekly Wipe (played with admirable conviction by Motherland star Diane Morgan) definitely brings a unique perspective to... well, just about everything. In this new five-part series, Philomena will be travelling throughout Britain ("from the white cliffs of Dover to the Scottish high lands of the Scottish Highlands"), and meeting its people in a bid to get to the core of who we are as a nation. She begins her quest by looking back to the very beginnings of time...

BRIDGET & EAMON | Gold 10PM

"How did I end up in my own back garden fighting some young lad from Turkey and missing my favourite telly?" wonders Eamon, as the cracking comedy set in the Midlands of Ireland during the 1980s returns for a third series. Luckily Bridget's there to fill in the gaps for her punch-drunk husband: it all began when Bridget's mother announced she was cutting her out of her will...

STEVE AUSTIN'S BROKEN SKULL CHALLENGE | Dave 4PM

America's biggest badasses assemble in the desert once again for Steve's punishing assault course. The first batch of challenges includes 'The Drain', where two contestants wrestle for supremacy in a huge paddling pool. Mercy.

FRANKIE DRAKE MYSTERIES | Alibi 9PM

For Frankie's final case of this series, she's summoned to the home of wealthy widow Louisa Winchester, but doesn't know why. When she arrives, she discovers that she has to verify the identity of a young woman believed to be Russian royalty.

FIRST DATES | Channel 4 10PM

The ex-factor

As another series of First Dates kicks off, two daters arrive at the restaurant already laughing and joking about what the night might bring. The staff are speculating whether they're siblings or best mates but, in a First Dates first, ex-husband and wife Mandy and Stuart (married for 11 years, but divorced for nine) are looking for love with someone new. They even get on better than many couples who are still together – but what will their respective dates make of it?

Elsewhere, self-defined non-player J has met his match in aesthetic therapist Sophie, while Morganne hopes to meet someone different from the Cardiff party boys she's tired of – which puts date Nathan in a difficult position.

MY DAD, THE PEACE DEAL AND ME | BBC1 9PM

When comedian Patrick Kielty was 16, his dad was killed by paramilitary gunmen during the Troubles. As part of the Good Friday Agreement – which Patrick voted in favour of in 1998 – his father's killers were released from prison, but the hope was that lasting peace would be possible in Northern Ireland. Twenty years on from the signing of the treaty, Patrick sets out to explore what it has helped to achieve. He travels to his home village of Dundrum and across Northern Ireland, where he meets people whose lives were changed by the Troubles, and investigates the potential impact of Brexit on the peace deal.

TIMELESS | E4 9PM

It was quite the emotional roller coaster for fans of this time-travel saga last summer, when it was cancelled by US broadcaster NBC – and then unexpectedly un-cancelled three days later. It returns tonight for a 10-episode second season – and following the shocking revelation in the finale that Lucy's mum was a member of the secretive Rittenhouse society, Lucy agrees to work alongside her mother on a mission to France in 1918.

SAVE ME | Sky Atlantic 9PM

With time running out in the search for Jody, Nelly stages a lock-in at The Palm Tree in tonight's finale, and one of the regulars has questions to answer. Nelly has to put his own life on the line to find his daughter, before it's too late...

NOT GOING OUT | BBC1 9PM

The lying game

Lee and Lucy have become completely obsessed with a Scandi-noir called The Oslo Murders, and are looking forward to a blissful evening of putting the kids to bed early and settling down to watch the finale. That plan is scuppered when Lucy remembers they're expected over at Anna and Toby's for dinner. There's only one thing for it: they'll have to lie through their teeth about one of the kids being ill.

Although disappointed, Anna accepts that they won't be joining her ("Toby and I will find something else to do – I'm sure we can rehearse an old argument from last week") and Lee and Lucy are free to enjoy their ill-gotten evening of Nordic drama – until Anna and Toby pop over to check on young Molly!

THE INVESTIGATOR: A BRITISH CRIME STORY | ITV 9PM

Former police officer-turned-investigative reporter Mark Williams-Thomas returns with a new three-part series of the true-crime documentary. This time, Mark has been approached by the family of Louise Kay, who disappeared from Eastbourne in June 1988 aged just 18, and was last seen driving towards Beachy Head after enjoying a night out clubbing. Mark starts looking into the case against Peter Tobin, the prime suspect in the investigation, who is currently in jail after being convicted of murdering three other women – but is he the key to finding out what happened to Louise?

DEEP STATE | Fox 9PM

Prepare to trust absolutely no one in this new espionage drama starring Mark Strong as former spy Max Easton, who is very reluctantly dragged back into the business by The Section, a joint operation between MI6 and the CIA. As a result, Max's wife Anna becomes curious about her husband's past and starts to delve a little deeper – a move she may come to regret when it puts her and her young daughters in danger.

MADAM SECRETARY | Sky Living 9PM

Elizabeth McCord resumes diplomatic relations, as the US drama returns from its hiatus. Tonight, she steps in to save a trade deal when the Sri Lankan president gets cold feet, while Alison is anxious after her roommate's suicide attempt.

SILICON VALLEY | Sky Atlantic 10.10PM

The Pied Piper team are in an untypically prime position, as the tech comedy returns for its fifth season: they're in swanky new premises, and their decentralised internet project is nearing its launch. So why is Richard still so uncomfortable?

THE CITY AND THE CITY | BBC2 9PM

DON'T Miss!

Shared space

The main thing you need to know before approaching this four-part drama, based on the book by China Miéville, is the relationship between the cities of Beszél and UI Qoma. They occupy the same geographical space, but have a volatile history with one another, to the extent that citizens of each are dissuaded from acknowledging anything to do with the other.

Confused? That's to be expected because the series is quite high-concept, but it looks beautiful and boasts the reassuring presence of David Morrissey as Inspector Tyador Borlú. He's forced to straddle the uneasy intersection between the two cities when a young woman's body is found in an area of Beszél that closely overlaps with UI Qoma.

Regional variations

Alan Carr returns to Friday nights with this new series that offers a truly unique prize – a year off work with your salary paid in full. Just think what you could do with all that free time! You could write a novel or go travelling or – our personal favourite option – you could sit in front of the television until you've achieved 100 per cent completion on Netflix. That prize will become a reality for one lucky member of Alan's audience, but they'll have to make it through a complicated series of games and challenges first. Actress and reality show judge Amanda Holden is tonight's star guest, lending Alan a helping hand.

INTO THE FIRE | Dave 8PM

This series (first aired on sister channel Really) aims to do for firefighters what Inside The Ambulance did for paramedics, using body-mounted cameras to give an insight into what life is like for the employees of the West Midlands Fire Service. In this opener, the team is put under pressure by a house fire that sets the roof ablaze and, in the aftermath of the bombing at the Manchester Arena, an explosion near Birmingham city provokes new fears.

AMERICA'S NEXT TOP MODEL | Sky Living 8PM

The top five go digital tonight as they create avatars for the new ANTM mobile game that highlight their personalities. Character is also a key part of the main challenge as they act various roles in a music video – but Rio and Jeana struggle.

MODERN FAMILY | Sky One 8.30PM

Worried that his and Gloria's love life has lost some sparkle, Jay tries to spice things up a bit. Meanwhile, Mitch and Cam throw a lavish party to celebrate Mitch's new job, but a change in fortune puts them in an awkward position.

IN and OUT

We spin soap's revolving door...

HELEN FLANAGAN

OUT (Rosie Webster, Corrie)

Sally will be waving goodbye to eldest daughter Rosie this summer, when actress Helen heads off on maternity leave – as she prepares for the birth of her second child with footballer Scott Sinclair. However, she has yet to confirm when she'll be coming back to the cobbles. "I'm not sure," she says. "I want to spend time with my new baby, but I love my job. They've looked after me – Corrie is a lovely place to work." Summer

GARY LUCY

(Luke Morgan, Hollyoaks)

OUT Will the eventual fallout from Darren and Mandy's affair see an explosive exit for Luke? Well, it seems inevitable following the news that Gary is to bow out of the soap to tour the country with the stage production of The Full Monty. There's no news yet on whether he'll return when the show ends next year. Summer

SCOTT LEE (Hunter King, Home and Away)

OUT It looks as if there's no hope for Olivia and Hunter, as Scott is leaving. "I'm excited," he says. "The time I've had has gone so quickly and I've learnt a lot." Later this year

EMMA SAMIMS

(Amanda Stafford, Doctors)

IN The former Dynasty diva – who played Fallon Carrington Colby in the original series of the soap – is returning to Letherbridge after a 13-year absence. But how will her ex-husband Jimmi deal with her return? "When the show asked me to come back and promised I could work with Adrian Lewis Morgan [Jimmi] again, I jumped at the chance," grins Emma. 27 April

THE EX FILES!

What are the one-time stars of soap up to now?

BAD EYRE DAY

Soap break-ups don't come any crueller than when Lauren Branning dumped Josh Hemmings without so much as a single word, so naturally ex-EastEnders Eddie Eyre feels sorry for his former alter ego. "As a fan of Josh and Lauren, I'm just devastated – how dare she, after all that!" jokes the actor, who is due to tread the boards at the Southwark Playhouse in the stage show The Country Wife. "Josh gave up everything for her and then she left him – awful!"

SHE'S THE ONE THAT WE WANT!

Ex-Neighbours star Delta Goodrem (Nina Tucker) is playing Aussie musical superstar Olivia Newton-John in a two-part TV movie of the singer's life – which will see Delta recreate iconic scenes from Grease and Xanadu, plus the famous clip for the song Physical. "I grew up with Olivia's energy and beautiful voice in my world through her music," says Delta. "Then from an early age, I was truly blessed to find friendship and mentorship from Olivia. I am deeply humbled to play my idol and friend."

by Jessie Keane
Set in London and New York, from the 1970s to the present day, this book follows two women as they play dirty to win the affection of the man they love. Only one of them can be victorious – but how low will she have to go?

For the chance to win a copy, tell us which soap actress Jessie Wallace has returned to: A) Corrie or B) EastEnders. Text ISWIN2, a space, then A or B and your name & address to 84988 (50p).

STAR CHOICE

Doctors' Laura Rollins (Ayesha)

"My favourite novel is The Book Thief by Markus Zusak. It's really moving and beautifully written, and the personification of death is just incredible. I read it a really long time before the film came out, but I did also enjoy the film as I'm a big fan of Geoffrey Rush – he's great!"

HITS & MISSES!

WHAT'S HIT THE BULLSEYE RECENTLY – AND WHAT'S FALLEN WIDE OF THE MARK?

We remember Sally's 'posh wallpaper' storyline from back in 1977, when snooty Annie Walker thought she'd bought expensive monogrammed carpet – but it turned out to be an offcut from the Alhambra Weatherfield Bingo.

Hollyoaks' Luke and Mandy got married in Florida this week. At Photoshop Cove, overlooking Greenscreen Bay, by the looks of it.

Sad Bernice makes us sad. She's usually the only person in an episode of Emmerdale we can rely on to cheer us up!

We loathe Bob and Laurel's affair, but it's worth it for the brilliant moments when Brenda's 'bright and breezy' mask slips.

The so-called 'Dingle Code' really is the pits, isn't it? How on earth can they threaten to disown Lisa if she doesn't lie to protect Liv? Lisa nearly died, for mercy's sake!

BULLSEYE!

You can take the girl out of Walford, but you'll never take Walford out of the girl... Having Jessie Wallace back on full gas, giving nothing less than her trademark powerhouse performance, has provided EastEnders with the vital spark it's been missing. Long live Kat Slater – and long may Albert Square rise to meet her!

They have a keen eye at the EastEnders casting department. Every time we look at Hunter, we see his father reaching for that deadly ashtray.

Aghast to see Kat return from the dead, Kathy? Now you know how it feels!

EastEnders' Unexpected Guest Star Of The Week was Shirley's massive hunk of meat. There have been members of the extended Branning family with less screen presence.

It was a big week for one of the twins who plays Corrie's baby Harry. Two birthdays this year!

While not the most thrilling character in the world – a beige man in a beige jumper – it was kinda nice to see Martin Platt again. It makes the Corrie world feel more joined-up and 'real'.

We watch nature programmes. We've seen this hungry look before.

YOU USE IT TO FACE THE DAY WE USE IT TO FACE CANCER

Self-esteem is important to all women, it just happens to be in sharper focus for those who have cancer. That's the reason Look Good Feel Better exists.
